OLEAN

VOLUME 32

OLEY VALLEY HIGH SCHOOL
OLEY, PENNSYLVANIA

Foreword . . .

Through the design on the cover of the 1968 Olean, the staff has endeavored to symbolize the challenging world of which each Senior is about to become an active member.

For twelve years, the environment provided by Oley Valley High School has given each of us the opportunities to grow physically, mentally, and socially. The challenge offered the Class of '68 was to take advantage of those educational opportunities in order that we would be ready to face our responsibilities to build careers and to contribute to the promotion of the general welfare of the community, the state, and the nation.

Graduation is the beginning of those responsibilities and of a realization that the fate of tomorrow's world rests on our shoulders—and none too lightly.

We of the Senior Class are proud to present a yearbook that takes you back through the school term 1967–1968 and shows activities and faces that will long be remembered. The 1968 Olean is, for us, a record of one of the best years of our lives. We hope that others who read about our experiences might be able to relate their school days with ours and become aware that the youth of today are ever striving for a better world of which to be a part.

DEDICATION

There can be no greater responsibility than that placed upon the hands that guide young men and women through the formative years of life. On these hands must fall the burden of making the future America. The results of these labors will go out into the world—in the office—in the court room—in the pulpit—in the military—in the classroom—in the home—in fact, into every walk of life. Throughout the world will be scattered the fruits from the seeds planted by them.

When it is known that this responsibility has been borne conscientiously, earnestly, and with gratifying results—how meager seems the greatest praise! As just a reminder of the confidence we place in his integrity, as well as the appreciation we feel of his efforts, let it be known that with the greatest pride and pleasure, we dedicate this—the thirty-second volume of the Olean—to

K. Barth Wins In Junior Miss Pageant

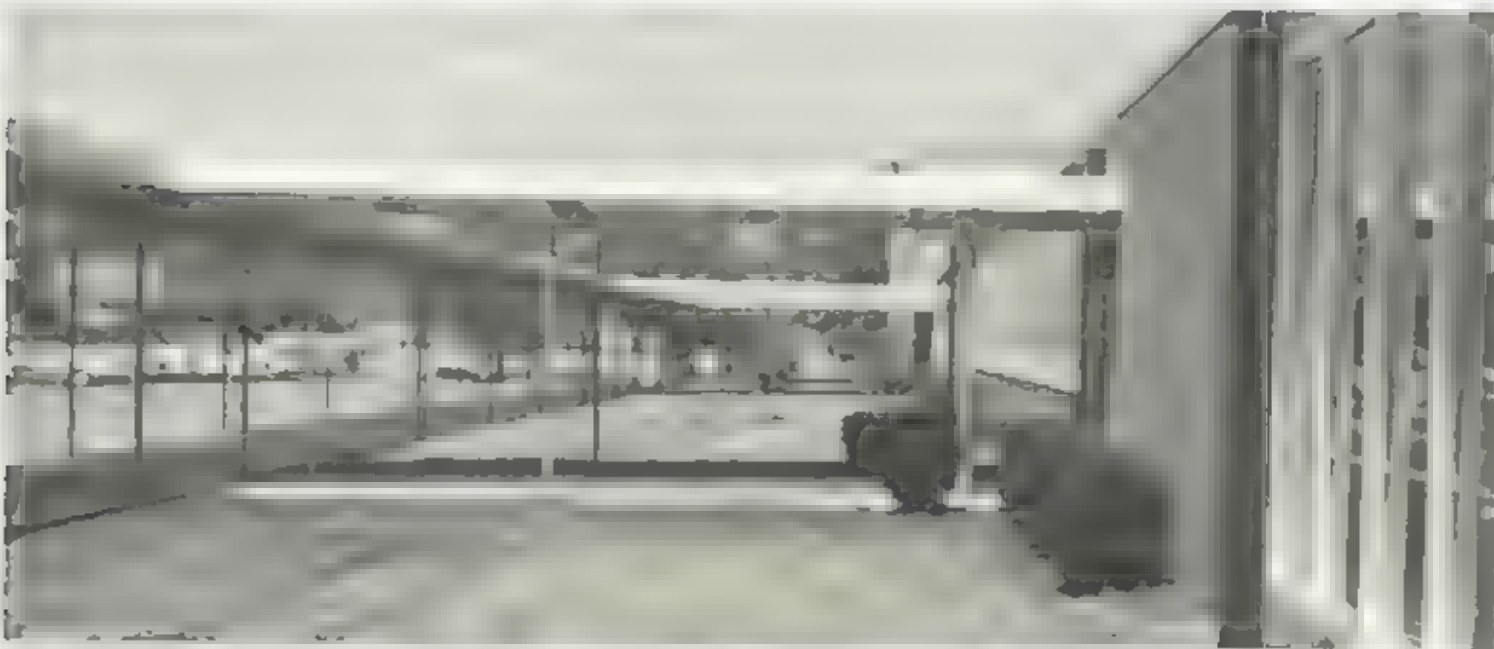

Talent in competition—that was the key phrase to identify Kathy Barth, Oley High's entrant in the Berks County Annual Junior Miss Pageant, held in the auditorium of the Hamburg High School on October 7, 1967. But, let her describe her own experiences

"A parade of the contestants—that's me (upper right)—across the stage and through the audience opened the evening's program. Another part of the contest was called the 'Performing Arts.' For this, I played a flute solo (left), 'Fantasie,' by Faure, accompanied by myself—via tape recording

"The last phase of the competition was in physical fitness. Here I am (bottom right) wearing hideous red knee-socks, white sneakers, black bermudas, a white blouse, and a red baseball cap! Each of us had to perform to such tunes as 'Take Me Out to the Ball Game,' 'Casey Jones,' 'Casey at the Bat,' and, of all things, 'Batman'!

"I was fortunate enough to be awarded the Scholastic Achievement trophy (bottom left). The worried young gentleman to my left was my escort throughout the program."

Faculty . . .

This is how it looks to the birds—the 33-acre complex that we call Oley Valley Junior Senior High School. But better commit the view to memory because soon it won't be the same. Plans call for a one-story middle school wing to be added this year in the vacant space between the rear of the junior-senior high building and the baseball diamond.

We sing to Oley Valley High School,
Noble and strong
To thee with loyal hearts
We raise our song
May your spirits never die
Nor your walls decay
We will sing our praises,
Through endless days

We make for thee a crown.
Rest on thy brow
Pride, honor, glory, love,
Before thee bow
Swelling to Heaven's high
Our praises ring
Pray that Oley Valley High School

'Greenies' Adjust To Junior High Life

Perhaps the most trying year of school life is that of a seventh grader. And Oley's "Greenies" were no exception. They rushed from classroom to classroom (but without any roller skates), teacher to teacher, seat to seat, and activity to activity. Their crowded schedule of studies included math with Mrs. Delcamp or Miss Trout, language arts with Mr. Fahrenbach, reading with Mrs. Dietrich, social studies with Mr. Bowersox or Mr. Ewing, science and health with Mr. Rentschler, Mr. Eckert, or Mrs. Bettleyon; gym with Mr. Knabb or Miss Sweitzer; wood shop with Mr. Rettew, home economics with Mrs. Tibbetts, Mrs. Lewis, or Miss Rauch; art with Mrs. Woodfall, music with Miss Boyer, and guidance with Mr. Fredicine.

The Class of 1973 was represented in Student Council by Robert Cherrie, Anthony Ferreri, Andrew Levien, Lee Ann Rothenberger, and Gary Shirey.

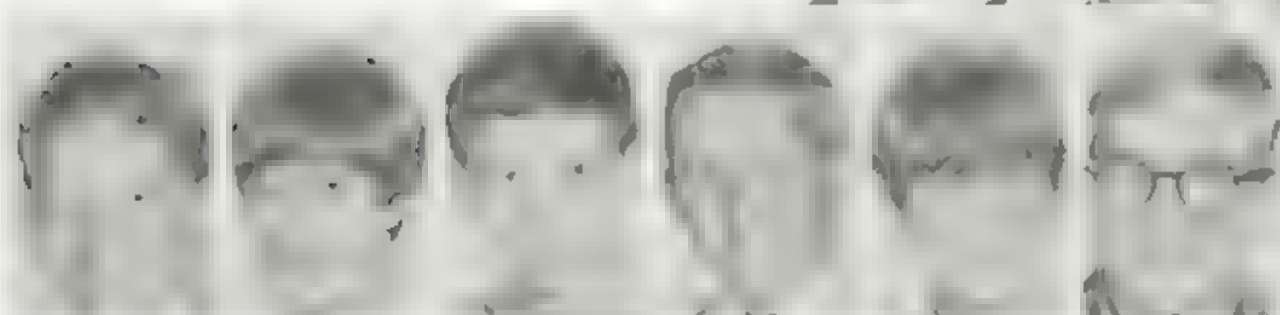

This was indeed a year of adjustment from the easy grade school environment to the rigors and disciplines leading to adult life—a year which proved the worth and potential of the youth who will soon take his place in the world as a responsible individual.

Eighth Grade Moves Toward High School

Better adjusted to junior high life, the eighth grade students advanced another step in their education.

Basic fundamentals of English were stressed by Mr. Christman (and his substitutes, Mrs. Meyer and Mrs. LeVan) and, to enhance successful communications, reading, by Mrs. Dietrich.

To keep pace with modern ideas, the members of the Class of 1972 were ably taught the latest concepts in math by Miss Trout or Mrs. Delcamp, and in science and health by Mr. Eckert. Mr. Rogers' and Mr. Hand's American history classes; Mr. Rentschler's and Miss Switzer's physical education workouts; Mrs. Tibbetts', Mrs. Lewis', and Miss Rauch's home economics sessions, Mr. Blank's and Mr. Marshall's metal shop classes, Miss Boyer's singouts, and Mrs. Woodfall's art lessons helped broaden the students' perspectives, while Mr. Fredicine stood ready to offer guidance to those who wished it.

The eighth graders also showed their initiative by sending to Student Council as representatives, Eileen Bechtel, William Frankfort, Robert Knabb, Richard Readinger, and Michael Youse.

Frosh Select Courses For Future Careers

The selection of individual course schedules awakened a new, more personal interest in education among the Freshman Class. As full-fledged members of the Senior High, they engaged in more and varied subjects and activities designed to prepare them not only for the remainder of their public school years, but also for the world lying beyond these walls.

Departing somewhat from the traditional principles of strict grammar, students studied composition under Mr. Bankert or Mr. Carmitchell; academic students began foreign language study in Mr. Weaver's German or Miss Clemmer's Spanish classes, while the neophytes of the commercial curriculum coped with business principles under Miss Beck's direction.

Those who elected the general or the vocational-agricultural courses received a basic program in home economics from Mrs. Tibbetts, Miss Rauch, or Mrs. Lewis, and in metal shop with Mr. Rettew or Mr. Marshall. Mr. Blank handled the wood shop and the agricultural subjects.

In the field of science, students were led by Mr. Reider (in the new classroom constructed on the site of the former courtyard porch) or Mrs. Bettleyon; Miss Sweitzer and Mr. Rentschler helped mold them physically; and Miss Trout or Mr. Wolfe introduced the Frosh to the mysteries of algebra.

Pennsylvania history and civics were taught by Mr. Hand, while Miss Boyer (music) and Mrs. Woodfall (art) rounded out the minor subjects offered the Class of 1971.

Bonnie Apgar, Carolyn Manwiller, Patricia Eddinger, Mary Jane Knabb, Milton Manwiller, and Michele Sterner represented the class in Student Council.

The Sophomore Class, aided by the basic knowledge gained during the past nine school terms, displayed great enthusiasm in September at the prospect of continuing to broaden their perspectives in education.

The study of German (with Mr. Weaver) and Spanish (with Miss Clemmer) was continued for interested students; biology (with Mr. Rhoades or Mr. Reider) was required of all tenth graders, as was English (with Mr. Carmitchell, Miss Clemmer, or Mr. Matthews), world cultures (with Mrs. Erb or Mr. Ewing), math (with Mr. T. Miller, Mr. R. Miller, or Mr. Wolfe), and safety education (with Mrs. Bettleyon).

Mr. Krick offered retail merchandising as well as personal typing; Mr. Rettew, mechanical drawing and metal and wood shops; Mrs. Tibbetts, Mrs. Lewis, and Miss Rauch, home economics; Mr. Blank, vocational agriculture; Mr. Marshall, metal shop; Mr. Rentschler and Miss Sweitzer, physical education; and Mrs. Woodfall, art.

Representing the class in Student Council were Charlton Becker, Patricia Hare, Beverly Landis, Robert Rothenberger, and Susan Weiss.

Diamondmen Finish Season Fourth In

Coach Rentschler gives two of his players some pre-game advice

The Lynx dropped their opening game of the 1967 baseball season, 16-3, to hosting Fleetwood. Aided by two six-run innings, the Tigers held Oley to only five hits.

Oley traveled next to Brandywine where behind the strong pitching of Edwin Geissler and the steady hitting of Donald Kaufman, the Lynx subdued the Bullets, 7-0.

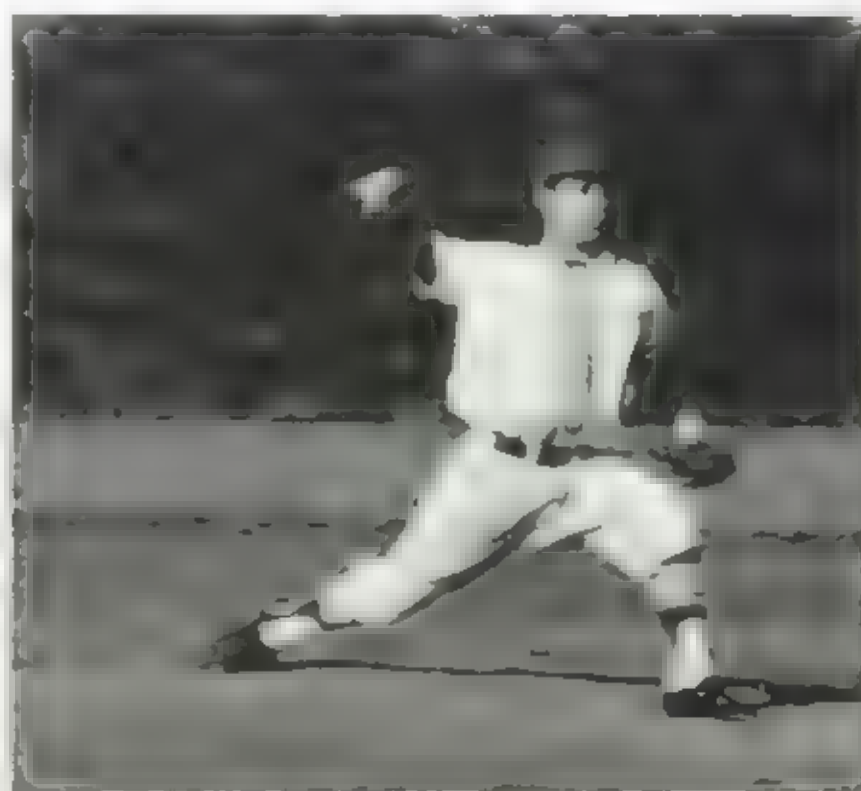

Game number three saw Donald Kaufman hold visiting Kutztown to one hit, but fall victim to an unusual sixth inning and lose, 3-2. The Cougars used four errors, a bases-loaded walk, and a hit batsman to score their three runs. The leading Oley hitters were Donald Kaufman (with three) and Terry Fisher (with two).

Terry Fisher slammed a bases-loaded triple in the last of the sixth inning to tie Daniel Boone at 7-7, but fell down twice as he tried to stretch it into a game-winning homer and was out at the plate. The Blazers were forced into an extra inning before beating Oley, 8-7.

Exeter ripped Oley, 13-3, scoring four times in both the first and second frames of game number five. Donald Kaufman batted in all three Lynx runs; Edwin Geissler rapped three hits and scored twice.

The Lynx bounced back in a tussle with Twin Valley, edging the Raiders, 3-2, on Donald Kaufman's strong six-hitter. Oley got only two hits, one of which was an RBI single by Donald in the third, but made it 3-0 in the fourth without a hit. In that inning, William Burkert walked and later came across on a passed ball. Edwin Geissler scored on an error. The Raiders got their two in the fifth.

Oley smacked Mt. Penn, 10-2, at home in a Southern Division tilt. Terry Fisher's bases-loaded triple in the second inning climaxed a Lynx five-run uprising. Donald Kaufman limited the Mounts to four swats and had a shut-out until the seventh. This victory placed Oley in third position for the first half of the southern Division season.

A non-League game with the Reading High Jayvees proved a tough one for Billy VanKirk to lose, 6-0. He yielded only one safety, and all of the JV's runs were unearned. Reading's pitcher whiffed thirteen batters and issued only three bases on balls.

To start the second half of the season, the Lynx traveled to Daniel Boone where, behind the strong pitching of Kaufman and the solid hitting of William Burkert, Oley blanked the Blazers, 4-0. Donald set down the host team with six safeties and then helped his cause with a double and a single.

At this point, the Lynx shared the top Southern Division spot with Twin Valley. However, then Exeter's Eagles shattered Oley's title dream on a 7-5 victory, after a hard-fought battle.

Next the Lynx faced Twin Valley, and the Raiders showed their top form by scoring four runs before Oley got a chance to bat. The Raiders routed Oley, 9-3.

Oley closed the season by being kalsomied, 12-0, by Mt. Penn. However, even though the Oley diamondmen did not come out on top, a 4-8 record and fourth place in the Division were the best baseball performances seen at Oley in several years.

Cindermen Annex Section 3 Track Title

Oley got its Section Three season off on the right foot by sweeping past visiting Mt. Penn, 100-35. The Lynx cindermen scored heavily in the field events to counterbalance a Mt. Penn standoff in the running events. Gene Becker had the lone double (the 120 low hurdles and a 20'-0½" in the broad jump). Leon Renner's 6'-0" high jump and Ralph Fick's 159'-6" javelin heave also deserve note.

Then at West Reading, Oley raced past the Cowboys, 119-15. Ronald Bieber was a triple winner in the 220 (in 24.4 seconds) and both hurdles (14.4 seconds in the low, 16.9 seconds in the high). Gene Becker took the 100-yard dash (in 10.9 seconds) and the broad jump (19'-8½"), and Leon Renner won the triple jump (36') and finished in a tie with teammate Jeffrey Messner for first in the high jump (5').

In its third meet of the 1967 season, Oley bounced previously unbeaten Wyomissing, 88-47. Gene Becker once again paced the team by winning the broad jump, the low hurdles and tied for first in the 100; Ronald Bieber took the 220 and the high hurdles. The Lynx claimed all seven firsts in the field events and five seconds.

The Lynx next swamped Daniel Boone's Blazers in a non-League meet at Birdsboro. Gene Becker scored a triple—the 100, the low hurdles (in 21 seconds), and the triple jump (41'-11"). Ronald Bieber (in the 120 and 220) and Raymond Himmelreich (the 880 and the mile) registered doubles. Leonard Renner broad-jumped 20'-5¼", one of the top performances of the day.

Largely on the strength of Gene Becker's work at the 46th Annual Albright College Invitational Track and Field Meet, Oley took third place (out of 17) with 32 points. Becker was the meet's top scorer with 16 points, registering 13.4 seconds in the 120 and 19'-10½" in the broad jump.

Oley captured the Section 3 title when it defeated hosting Tulpehocken, 101-29. In the meet, held at New Schaefferstown, Ronald Bieber registered a triple as he won the 220 and the two hurdle events. Raymond Himmelreich contributed a double to the cause by taking the 880 and the mile runs. Becker concentrated on the triple jump and turned in a 38'-8" performance.

In another non-League meet, Oley, as yet undefeated in dual competition, hammered previously unbeaten Central Catholic, 93-37. Becker, who took the 120 in 13.6 seconds and the broad jump with a 20' effort, and Raymond Himmelreich, who prevailed in the 880 and the mile runs, posted double triumphs. Ralph Fick had a best-of-the-season toss of 162' in the javelin event.

Oley placed eighth in the Penn Relays held at Philadelphia.

At the Leonard Stephan-Wilson Track and Field Meet, Oley won two first places when Ralph Fick heaved the javelin 157'-7", and Becker captured the long jump with a leap of 21'-1". A score of 27½ points placed Oley in fourth position in this contest.

West Reading was the location of the John H. Shaner Interscholastic Meet. Leonard Renner stunned the broad jump field by taking the event with a leap of 20'-6¼". Oley, which placed fifth with a score of 24 points, lost the services of Stanley Cieplinski, pole vaulter, and broad jumper, Gene Becker, with injuries during this contest.

At the Venzke Relays, held in Boyertown, Oley came in second in the 880, open class, heat two, and Leonard Renner captured the broad jump

For Fourth Time

In the victory meet at Shillington, Oley ranked sixth with 20 points. Leonard Renner again won the broad jump with a leap of 21'-0 1/4".

Guest Brandywine was crumpled by the Lynx, 83 1/2-47 1/2. Leonard Renner snared a double in the high jump (5'-8") and the triple jump (37'-10").

Ralph Fick captured the javelin event with a toss of 167'-10 1/2", and Leonard Renner annexed the broad jump on a leap of 20' in the First Annual Muhlenberg Township High Streamline Track and Field Meet. Oley came in sixth with a 25-point score.

At the District 3 PIAA contest at Lancaster, Gene Becker finished second in the Class B broad jump (21'-4"), thereby qualifying to represent the District in the State Meet. Oley's score of 9 placed the Lynx second in the Class C competition.

Schuylkill Valley hosted the Berks County Track Championship Meet. There Gene Becker annexed the broad jump (19'-10 1/2") and triple (41'-5"), before losing by a scant tenth of a second in the low hurdles. Ronald Bieber in the 120 was Oley's only other individual winner. The final score was 41, which ranked Oley in second place.

The 11th Annual All-Star Track meet, held at Albright College, drew top athletes from all over the county. Oley scored 23 points to tie Wilson for fourth place. Leonard Renner won the broad jump (19'-9 1/2").

Gene Becker headed the Intermediate Division with a triple in the State Jaycee Junior Championship Meet at Juniata College. He set two records (21.8 seconds in the 180 and 43'-3" in the triple), as well as winning the broad jump (21'-0 1/4").

It was indeed a good season for the Lynx!

In this three-part photograph, Gene Becker shows the finesse and athletic prowess which helped make the 1967 season a remarkable one for Oley

Soccer Team Finishes Ninth

Oley's soccer team finished in ninth place in the Berks League this season, winning one, losing seven, and tying one

In game number one, Brandywine Heights blanked Oley, 3-0. Then Hamburg's Hawks, playing on their home crease, shut-out Oley, 2-0. Next, Mt. Penn beat Oley, 3-1. Craig Kegerise had the Lynx' only tally.

Following that, Kutztown trounced Oley, 5-0. Fleetwood defeated the visiting Lynx, 2-0, and hosting Tulpehocken waged a 1-1 tie with Oley. Craig Kegerise made a second period goal in that latter game.

Our first and only win came when Oley dumped Wilson, 2-0. Goals were made by Craig Kegerise and William Allen.

Then Conrad Weiser turned back host Oley, 2-1. Mark Trout scored in the first ten seconds of the second half.

The season closed when Twin Valley downed Oley, 1-0.

Craig Kegerise (named along with teammate Leon Neiman to the Berks County Referees' All-Star Soccer Team) appears undecided as to where the ball is. Don't sit on it by mistake; get it to the goal!

Harriers In Sixth Place With 7-5 Record

The cross-country team finished the 1967 season in sixth place with a 7-5 League record, and an 8-6 record in over-all competition.

Boyertown trounced Oley, 15-40, in the opening meet for the Lynx. The junior varsity team trimmed Oley's number two, 15-40.

Defending champion, Exeter, got its Berks Cross-Country League campaign off on the right foot by blanking visiting Oley, 15-40, at Reiffton.

Next, Oley nudged Hamburg, 27-28, on the Lynx' course. Raymond Himmelreich took first place (in 14:20).

Host Oley then took Mt. Penn, 15-40, winning eight of the first ten places! Ray came in first (in 14:02).

Following that, Oley stopped hosting Twin Valley, 21-34, only to have Wilson's Bulldogs top the Lynx, 18-37. But the boys recouped somewhat by defeating Wyomissing, 23-32, and nipping Muhlenberg, 27-28. In that latter meet, Ray flashed across the finish line in the record time of 11:47. However, our JV's lost to Muhlenberg's, 23-22.

Then, in a non-League meet, Oley took Holy Name, 26-29.

The Lynx went on to rip Schuylkill Valley, 23-32, and edge Brandywine Heights, 26-29. Ray finished that second meet in first position with a 14.08 clocking.

Next, Daniel Boone topped Oley, 23-32, despite Ray's 13:55, Conrad Weiser dumped the Lynx, 20-35, and Governor Mifflin smothered Oley, 17-38.

At the Class B, District 3, Cross-Country Meet,

Oley placed twentieth out of a total field of twenty-nine, and fifth out of all the Class B teams from Berks County. The Lynx went on to finish ninth in the annual Conference Run.

The five outstanding runners of this season were Raymond Himmelreich, Timothy Reber, Marcus Schneider, Don Riccio, and Ronald Wanner.

Don Riccio strains as he nears the finish line

'Little' Lynx Also Wins Section 3 Title

Coach Hand's little Lynx turned in a track and field season that was as good as their senior high counterparts'. First they blasted Mt. Penn, 69-39; followed that by whipping West Reading, 70-39; and then clinched the junior high Section 3 championship with an 81-28 triumph over Wyomissing.

Later in a meet with Daniel Boone, the junior high team won, 64-36, and then took third place (with 26 points) at the C. E. Cole All-County Meet. There Glenn Carter, Ricky Watt, Daniel Levien, and Paul Germann joined efforts to win the mile relay in 3:54.4; Wayne Harris took a second in the 75-yard dash; Richard Keller came in fifth in the 100; and Paul Germann placed third in both the shot put and the high jump. The boys ended fifth in the 440 (100-pound class) relay, and second in both the 440 open and the 880 open.

At the John Shaner Invitational, hosted by West Reading, Richard Keller again came in fifth, this time in the 75-yard dash, while in the 880 relay, Oley placed fourth.

The Venzke Relays saw improvement. In the 440 (100-pound class), Oley was second; in the mile (heat 1), we were also second; and in the 440 (heat 2), Keller, Carter, Germann, and Mark Zellner captured a first in 49.6 seconds.

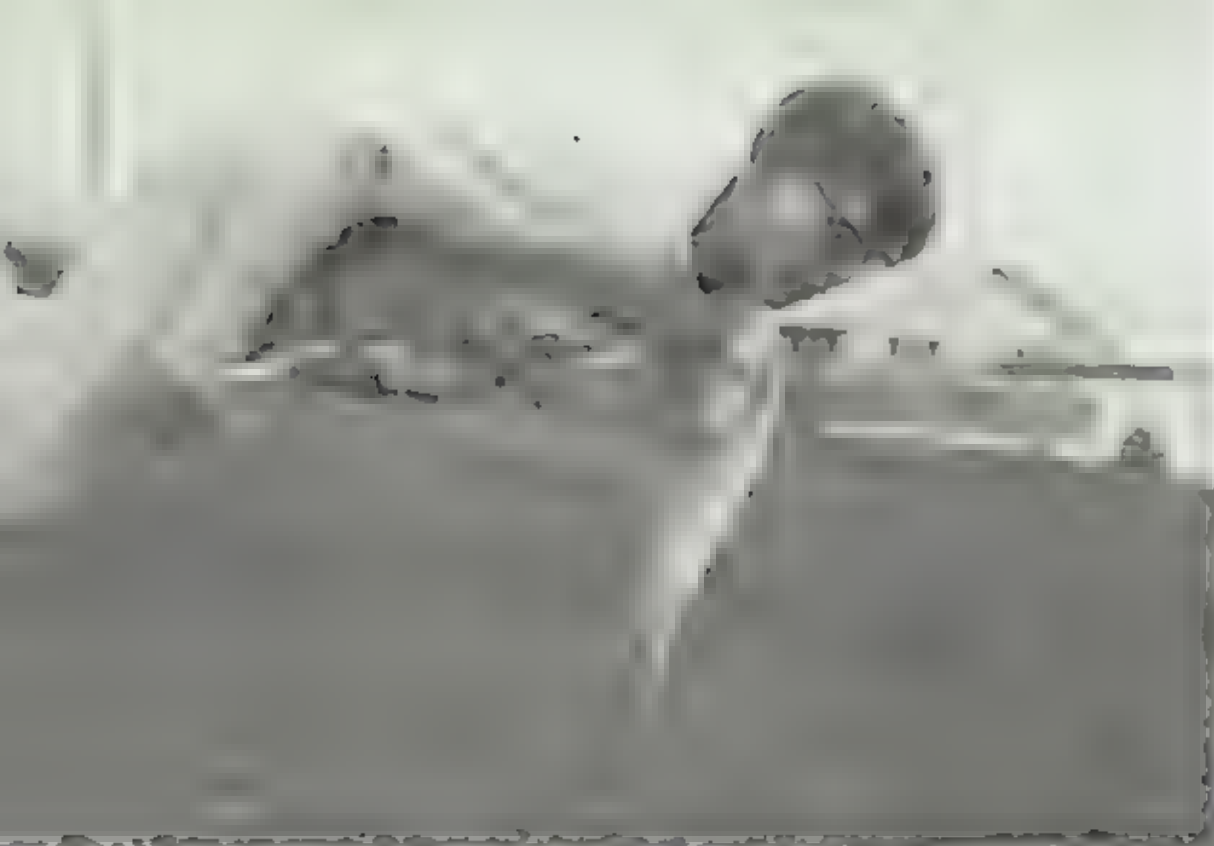

Paul Germann registered the only double of the Tenth Annual Exeter Junior High Track and Field Meet by winning the shot put (with a toss of 54'-3") and the high jump (with a leap of 5'-2"). Mark Zellner posted a third Oley victory by taking the 220 in 26.5 seconds. In the 880, a first; in the 440 (100-pound class), a third; and in the 440 (open), a fourth, brought Oley's score to 29, or third place in the meet.

At the Schuylkill Valley Meet, Oley picked off five firsts by winning the 440 relay (Ricky Auciello, Edward Smith, Terry Henderson, and Wayne Harris in 54.4); the 75-yard, 100-pound class dash (Harris, 9.4 seconds); the high jump (Germann, 55 feet); the 440 (Zellner, 56.3 seconds); and the 880 relay (Keller, Levien, Zellner, and Germann in 1:42.5).

Finally, Wayne Harris placed second in the 50-yard dash at the York PIAA District 3 Meet; Paul Germann won third in the shot put; and Richard Keller came in fourth in the 50-yard dash.

Wacky Characters Liven Comedy Hit Of Life In Mad (?) World Of 1937

At first the inhabitants of the cluttered uptown New York City home of "Grandpa" Martin Vanderhof seem gloriously mad, but it is not long before one realizes that if they are mad—then the rest of the world is madder!

We meet Grandpa (Craig Kegerise), a lively little man of 75 who has been relaxing and having fun collecting snakes and attending circuses and commencement exercises for the past 35 years. His daughter, Penelope Vanderhof Sycamore (Maureen McCarthy), plump and fiftyish, has been writing plays for eight years—ever since a typewriter was delivered to the house by mistake. Essie (Mary Louise Phillips), one of her daughters, wears ballet slippers and dances almost all the time, but as a vocation makes "Love Dream Candies" which her husband, Ed Carmichael (Gary Smith), a devotee of the piano and the printing press, sells. Paul Sycamore (Randall Heffelfinger), Penelope's husband, manufactures fireworks in the cellar, with the assistance of Mr. DePinna (Leon Neiman) who came to the house to deliver ice eight years earlier and has remained ever since. Another of Penelope's daughters is Alice (Bonnie Rothenberger)—lovely, quiet, and normal! Completing the household are Reba (Linda Eisenhart), the cook, Donald (Carl Cronrath), her boyfriend and helper, and a semi-official member, Mr. Boris Kolonkhov (Ralph Fick), a Russian refugee who gives Essie dancing lessons.

The main plot of this George Kauffman-Moss Hart comedy shows how Tony Kirby (Eric Seidel), the handsome son of Alice's boss, falls in love with her—but blunders when he brings his parents (Gary Shane and Molly LeVan) to dine at the house on the wrong evening! The shock sustained by the pompous Kirbys, who are invited to eat hot dogs, corn, and canned soup, shows Alice that marriage to Tony is out of the question. However, Tony is persistent, and in the end love triumphs.

A subplot, as equally wacky and current today as in 1937 when the play first appeared, deals with Grandpa and his troubles with the Federal Government over his refusal to believe in (or, for that matter, to pay) the income tax!

Other members of the cast included Darryl McCullough (Mr. Henderson, a revenue agent); Karen Levengood (Gay Wellington, an actress who enjoys drinking); Janice Fick (Ogla Katrina, an ex-Grand Duchess who now works as a waitress); and Monte Yocum, Ralph Reber, and Thomas Wails (three G-Men). Oh, and we must not forget Charlie, the milkman! Remember him?

Gymnasts Show Athletic Abilities

Crowded bleachers, bright lights, noise, and plenty of student gymnasts with tired, sore muscles were evident at the Physical Educational Demonstration held on March 10, 1967, at 8 p.m.

Included in the program were a calisthenics exhibition by the seventh and eighth graders, a polka and two square dances by grades nine and eleven respectively, a spring board demonstration by grade ten, and tumbling and work on various pieces of apparatus by selected students.

Versatility, good form, skill, and enthusiasm were shown by all participants, especially those who worked with the flying and still rings, the Swedish box, the horizontal and parallel bars, and the trampoline.

12 Corpses Help

"The funniest play about murder ever written," as one drama critic called it, Arsenic and Old Lace was presented by the Class of 1968 on November 3 and 4, 1967, at 8:15 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

In three acts, this farce revolves about the sweetly homicidal mania of the mild, charming, and "innocent" old maid Brewster girls of Brooklyn, Martha (Karen Levensgood) and Abby (Maureen McCarthy). The local police (Randall Heffelfinger, Jeffrey Boyer, Monte Yocum, and Eric Seidel) drop in for cozy comfort on cold nights; the ladies are charitable; everybody loves them.

They have three nephews: Teddy Roosevelt Brewster (Leon Neiman), who lives with them, is amusingly cracked, digs the "Panama Canal" in the cellar, and constantly charges up the stairs blowing a bugle for the taking of San Juan Hill. Nephew Martimer (Gary Shane), who loves the minister's daughter (Mary Louise Phillips) next door, is a drama critic. It is he who discovers a corpse in the window seat, then finds out that his aunts, with humanitarian motives (naturally!), welcome lonely, friendless, homeless old men (but only those who prove socially and religiously "acceptable"), ply them with elderberry wine (well-spiked with arsenic, strychnine, and cyanide), and bury them in Teddy's "Canal" (claiming they have fallen victim to yellow fever). This particular corpse makes their twelfth victim!

While Mortimer ponders what to do about his "tender" aunts, nephew Jonathan (Gary Smith) arrives. Abby learns of him when she discovers a strange corpse in the window seat. "Now, what can that be?" she wonders. Jonathan, a more direct homicidal maniac, is disguised as Boris Karloff's version of Dr. Frankenstein's monster. He travels accompanied by his personal face-lifter and plastic surgeon, Dr. Einstein (Craig Kegerise). Jonathan, as Abby observes, always was a mean boy; he couldn't bear to see anyone get ahead of him—he too has accumulated his twelfth corpse!

The police get Jonathan, but Mortimer manages to have his aunts taken to a private "rest home." When the custodian (Carl Cronrath) arrives, the "gentle" ladies suggest that he have a drink before they leave. He agrees, and as the curtain falls, they serve him elderberry—and arsenic!

Insanity not only ran in the Brewster family—it galloped. And the audiences, kept in stitches for two hours, loved it. Certainly no such genial pair of lethal spinsters has made murder so hilarious as in this corpse-ridden play.

Oh, anyone wish to buy a slightly-used window seat?

In fine tune, as usual, the group entertained parents and friends with a varied musical program, including Offenbach's familiar "Orpheus Overture"; a selection from Bernstein's "West Side Story"; four marches ("The Foundation," "The Klaxon," "Amparita Roco," and "American Patrol"); "Relax!" (a rumba featuring several of the woodwind instruments rarely heard in solo capacities, such as bass clarinet, bassoon, and baritone saxophone); "The Holy City"; "Mannin Veen" (a tone poem based on folk songs from the Isle of Man); "Beautiful Colorado, Valse Caprice"; "The Flea"; and "Casa Grande" (by Henry A. Several members of the band deserve note for their musical accomplishments. Bieber, Minnich Receive National Choral Awards

Highlighting the Spring Choral and Orchestra Concert, held on May 6, 1967, was the initial presentation by Miss Boyer, one of the directors, of the National School Choral Award for meritorious achievement in the area of vocal music. Its first recipients at Oley were Ronald Bieber and Margaret Minnich.

Part one of the program was instrumental. Included in the selections were "Trumpet Voluntary"; Schubert's "Marche Militaire No. 1"; "A Set of Four" (dance, minuet pizzicato, slow air, and jig); "Hymn of Freedom" from Brahms' Symphony No. 1; "Procession of the Sardar"; and several Cole Porter selections. Mr. Betz directed the orchestra.

Following an intermission, the choruses held forth. The Junior Chorus opened with the now-classic "Land of Hope and Glory," written by Sir Edward Elgar for the coronation of Edward VII in 1902, and "Prayer for Peace"; the Boys' Chorus followed with "Aura Lee." Next the Junior High Choral Club sang "Dear Land of Home" (from Sibelius' tone poem Finlandia), and the Junior Chorus concluded its part of the program with two selections from Rogers and Hammerstein's "The Sound of Music."

The last third of the concert was provided by the Senior Chorus, which sang "Benedictus" and "Hosanna," two chorales by Mendelssohn and Bach; George Gershwin's "Summertime," from his Porgy and Bess; "Homing" by Del Riego; "The Shadow of Your Smile"; and Mozart's "Alleluia."

Accompanists for the Junior Chorus were Elizabeth Seidel, Robin Sheipe, and Kathy Barth, who, with Donna Yoder and Constance Eshbach, also accompanied the Senior Chorus.

The Junior Chorus, directed by Miss Boyer, gives out with "Edelweiss" and "Do Re Mi" during dress rehearsal.

"Cast Thy Burden upon the Lord" from Elijah and "Hail Do Thou Defend Me" from St. Matthew Passion were but two of the fine numbers presented by the Senior Chorus

Variety, Fun To School Program

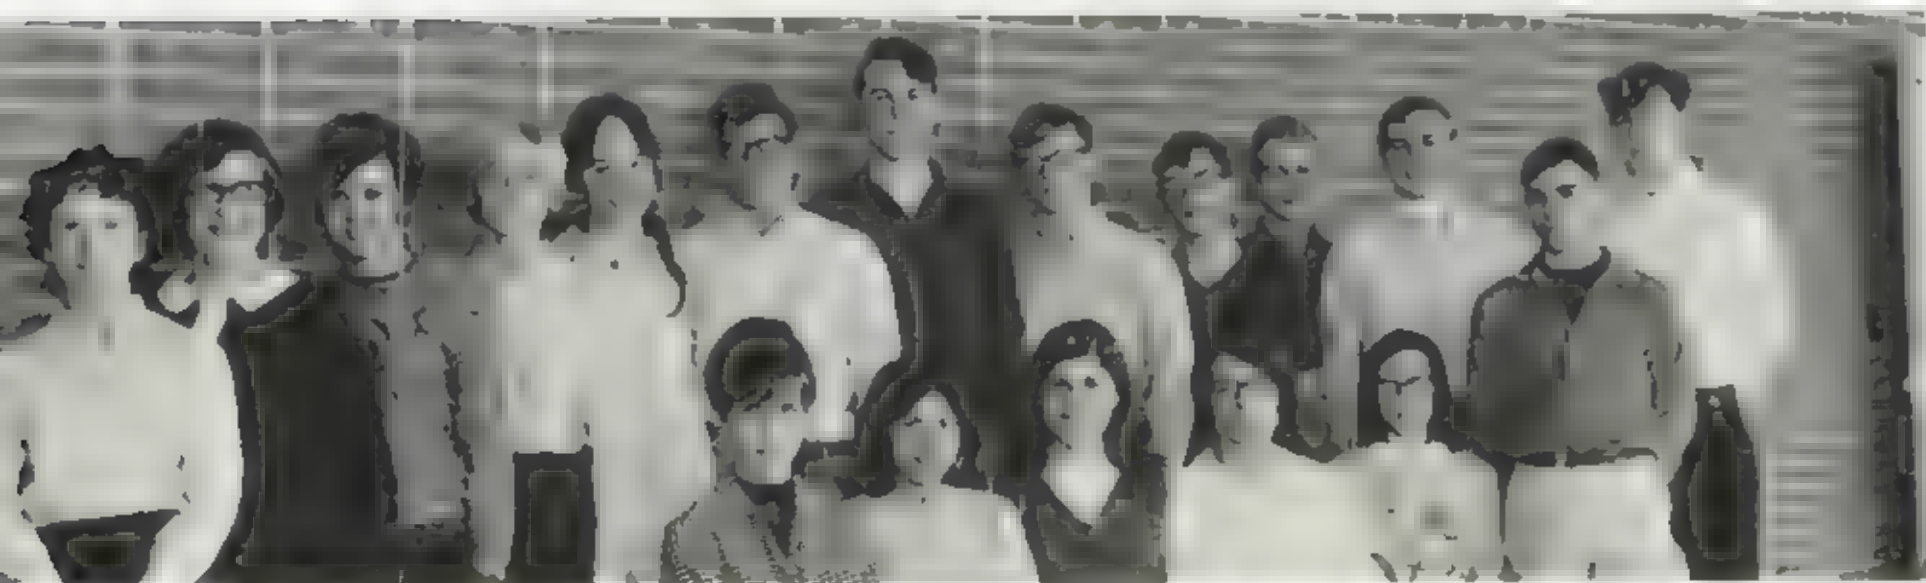

Our hours in school are designed to be an experience in total education—social as well as academic. One of the ways that students may have the opportunity to work with and meet other students and develop that co-operation that is essential in today's world is through clubs.

Membership in a club matures a student by placing him in a situation where he must assume the same responsibilities that will be his later in life. A student needs such outlets as clubs since school life can become pretty frustrating and confusing without them. You are student No. 824, locker No. 438, gym locker No. 25, homeroom No. 24, ranking 18th in your class of 125, wearing uniform No. 34, classified 1A by the Selective Service, with a grade point average of 3.2, needing a total of 13.2 credits to graduate, and having Social Security No. 187-37-6032.

But OVHS provides many and varied means of relaxation and self-expression for its students. Clubs offer the opportunity for each to express his individuality and to be more than just a number.

Prom, Baccalaureate, Graduation

GRADUATION—the commencement of independence, the conclusion of education's path upon which one was guided by teachers, encouraged by parents, and aided by friends. And now a diploma—a goal finally realized, the completion of an important step toward our futures, a reward for twelve years of challenge, and endeavour, completed with a handshake—a token of farewell to Oley Valley High School

'The End Is Here'—

Our twelve years of public education may not have been perfect, or at least they did not seem so when we did poorly in a test, missed the bus, forgot our assignment, caught a cold just before a big dance, or lost an important game. Now, however, that they have come to a close, those school days begin to look pretty wonderful.

For all of us there is a sense of loss—for a very important part of our lives has passed, never to return. Each Senior filled a particular place in the Class of 1968. It is our hope that we have done well, each in his own individualistic manner, and that our combined efforts, as recorded in this yearbook, have added to the story of Oley Valley High School.

Yet, we did not arrive at graduation unaided. It is only fitting to express our appreciation to all who have given encouragement and help. Without the backing of those with faith in us, the youth of America, we would be receding instead of proceeding.

"The end is here,
But in the evening of our youth,
We look beyond, into the dawn of life
awaiting us
For—wondrous paradox—the end means
But a new commencement
So we go—knowing we are gift-bearers
To the world

"Evening brings a tide of peace
And ripples of remembrance
And at the twilight of these years
We feel a flood of evening—peace
That marks the end
Of our days together;
And we know
The joy-mingled pain of remembrance
In separation
These pages are our dusk song,
Singing for us the days that brought us
To this evening "
